DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-4, 6 and 9-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Chen et al. (U.S. 5,545,289).

Chen discloses a method for etching a semiconductor device comprising: providing a device having a plurality of layers, including a layer comprising a refractory metal containing material, including a Ti-W alloy (col. 19, lines 43-46); and etching with a composition comprising a first etchant chemistry which comprises a chlorine source, including Cl₂ (col. 19, lines 56-60), and further comprises N₂ (col. 19, line 60), and a second etchant which is free of fluorine (col. 20, lines 15-17), and further comprises a chlorine source, including Cl₂ (col. 20, line 16).

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

3. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

4. Claims 5, 7-8 and 12-35 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chen et al. (U.S. 5,545,289) as applied to claims 1-4, 6 and 9-11 above, and in view of Shoji (U.S. 5,853,602).

In regard to claims 5 and 7, Chen does not disclose that the first etchant further comprises a fluorine source.

Shoji discloses a method comprising: providing a semiconductor device having a plurality of layers, including a refractory metal containing layer and an oxide layer, and etching with an etchant comprising a chlorine and a fluorine source, wherein the chlorine source can be Cl_2 , and the fluorine source can be SF_6 (col. 2, lines 9-24). Furthermore, Shoji discloses that this etchant provides an improved etching rate and selectivity between a refractory metal layer and SiO_2 .

It is the Examiner's position that it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of the invention to modify Chen by further utilizing a fluorine source in the first etchant mixture, as per Shoji, in view of Shoji's disclosure about the benefits of such an etchant mixture.

In regard to claims 8 and 12-35, these claims differ from the claims discussed above by adding the further limitations of specific power ranges and concentrations. Although not disclosed by Chen or Shoji, it is the Examiner's position that the variation of result-effective process parameters, such as concentration and power, would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art, if only for experimentation purposes, in order to determine the optimum process conditions.

Response to Arguments

5. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-35 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

6. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
